The 2006-07 Washington Men's Basketball Media Guide was compiled, written and edited by Dan Lepse, Senior Associate Athletic Communications Director. Layout and design was produced entirely in-house by Lepse and Jonathan Soriano. Interior template design and cover design by Soriano. Additional contributions/proofing by C.J. Bowles and Jesse Hulsing. Printing by UW Publication Services (Judy Robertson).

Photography by Bruce Terami, Joanie Komura, David Gonzales, Scott Cohen, Brian Spurlock, Max Waugh, Dan Lepse and UW archives. Additional photos courtesy of the NBA.

The UW Athletic Communications Office thanks all members of past UW staffs that assisted in compiling information for this guide. Any corrections or additions are welcome and should be directed in writing to the Athletic Communications office.

Washington Media Policies

INTERVIEW POLICY

Contact the Athletic Communications Department at least 24 hours in advance for ALL interview requests. Coaches and players are typically available before and after practice on a first-come, first-served basis. Because of NCAA rules, which limit the time student-athletes can practice, it is imperative that media members wishing to interview players before practice be available before the scheduled practice start time. Practices will start on time, and players and coaches will not be interviewed once practice has begun. Student-athletes are not available for interviews on game day.

PRACTICE

Practice is usually open to the media. Location will vary. Please call the Athletic Communications Department to confirm site and time.

CREDENTIALS

All single-game or season credential requests for Husky men's basketball should be directed to the UW Athletic Communications Department by phone or in writing. It is recommended that requests be made one week in advance of the game you wish to cover. If media are unable to pick up credentials prior to the game, they may be picked up at Will Call at the arena. Will Call opens 90 minutes before tip-off.

PARKING

For practice on campus, media parking is available in several locations, all within close proximity to the arena (E-8, E-11 and E-12). Lots E-11 and E-12 can be accessed through the main entrance to the Husky football stadium off Montlake Blvd. The E-8 lot is located behind the IMA building and can be accessed by taking the first entrance after Graves Building (travelling North on Montlake Blvd.).

TELEPHONES

The Athletic Communications Department has limited telephone lines installed in the press seating area and workroom. If media members require dedicated telephone lines, please contact the University of Washington Telecommunications Department, (206) 543-0133. They will arrange to have phone lines installed at your expense. There are co-op phone lines available to Pac-10 visiting flagship radio stations.

WIRELESS INTERNET

Wireless internet access is available on gamedays inside Bank of America Arena. High-speed ethernet lines are also available in the media workroom.

INTERNET

We encourage media and fans to visit the University of Washington Athletics home page. The address is:
<http://www.GoHuskies.com>

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Photo passes are available for accredited news media. Passes should be requested one week in advance of the game you wish to cover. If media are unable to pick up credentials prior to the game, they may be picked up at Will Call at Bank of America Arena. Will Call opens 90 minutes before tip-off.

Photographers may work from the baselines, in accordance with NCAA rules. In no case may a photographer shoot from the sidelines or press row. No tripods are allowed. Passes and photo armbands must be visible at all times. Failure to adhere to any regulations, or any interference with play, is reason for expulsion.

GAME SERVICES

Computerized play-by-play accounts for each half, and halftime and final statistics, will be distributed in the press seating area and the media work room. A light meal will be served prior to tip-off in the work room at the arena.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Postgame interviews are conducted in the media work room. Husky head coach Lorenzo Romar and requested players will be available to the media. Postgame interviews with visiting personnel will be arranged by the visiting SID.

POSTGAME WORK AREAS

The press seating area and the media work room (Room 145) will be available following each home game as work areas for media. Final statistics and play-by-play accounts will be available in both areas. Two telephones will be available for postgame filing in the press seating area.

STATISTICIANS

Qualified statisticians are available through the Athletic Communications Department in advance of the game. Please provide three days notice. A minimum fee of $50 per statistician is recommended.

BANK OF AMERICA ARENA PRESS ROW

There are two phone numbers for the Bank of America Arena press row: (206) 543-2230 and 543-2231.

PAC-10 COACHES' TELECONFERENCE

Each Tuesday morning throughout the season, the Pac-10 conducts a coaches teleconference. Call the Pac-10 office at (925) 932-4411 for details. A taped replay of the entire call is available later in the day, following the call.

NCAA GUIDELINES AND THE MEDIA

Media members should be aware of several NCAA rules that apply to student-athletes. If there is ever a question if any media-related activity or event including a Washington student-athlete could be a possible NCAA violation, contact Sr. Associate AD For Compliance, John Morris, for an interpretation. Areas of concern include:

- Coaches and University officials cannot make comments on prospective student-athletes until they sign a national letter of intent. A coach cannot comment on a prospective student-athlete who verbally commits to an institution.
- Coaches and athletic staff are not permitted to write guest columns for publications.
- Do not ask student-athletes to list or endorse products.
- Photographers cannot provide student-athletes with photographs or slides. The Athletic Communications office offers a similar service for student-athletes to purchase photographs.
- Student-athletes may not be used in advertisements or endorsements of products, including media-related publications.
- Student-athletes are not permitted to conduct interviews for 1-900 services.
- Establishing an Internet site in and of itself does not categorize an individual as a media entity. Therefore, individuals who establish Internet sites independent of the institution continue to be subject to all applicable restrictions related to contacting prospects for a recruiting purpose.

Huskies Call Renovated “Dawghouse” Home

The Washington men's basketball team has played the last five seasons in the “Dawghouse.”

After playing off campus in 1999-2000 for the first full season ever, the Huskies returned to more familiar surroundings in 2000-01. Originally completed in 1927, the arena underwent a $40 million, 19-month renovation between March of 1999 and November of 2000 to reconfigure its interior.

The pavilion's name was also renovated. The building is now called Bank of America Arena at Hec Edmundson Pavilion thanks to a $9.1 million gift from Bank of America for naming rights and a 10-year corporate partnership.

Despite a seating capacity increase from 7,900 to approximately 10,000, the arena is much more intimate than before.

Gone are the infamous roof support pillars that obstructed views of the court. They were replaced by a pair of “super-trusses” that run the length of the building from east to west. Each supertruss is 245-feet long, 30-inches in diameter and weighs 460,000 pounds.

The Pavilion's east end was converted into a practice court for basketball and volleyball.

Adorning the west end of the Arena is the Founders Club and a new Hall of Fame museum that proudly displays Washington's outstanding athletic tradition. The expanded area offers much more public access to displays, trophies and historical information in addition to serving as a pregame and postgame reception area.

While the renovation of the main arena is stunning, the improvements to the support areas greatly benefit Washington's overall program. They have dramatically increased the space of the sports medicine center facilities, equipment rooms, meeting rooms, media accommodations and locker rooms for many of the UW's teams, including football and men's and women's basketball.

The renovation design of Hec Edmundson Pavilion started in the summer of 1997. Construction began in March of 1999 and was completed in November of 2000.

During construction, the men's and women's basketball, volleyball and gymnastics teams each competed in alternate venues. The men's basketball team played its home games at KeyArena in downtown Seattle.

Edmundson Pavilion is a monument to durability. The massive brick structure, with its signature Husky gargoyles on the west facade, is in its ninth decade of service. The Washington men's basketball team is competing in the building for the 79th season, a stretch that has allowed the UW men's team to compile more wins in the building (808) than any other team in the nation has won in its current arena.

The Huskies have parlayed their return to campus into a return to their winning ways. UW registered a school-record 32-game winning streak from Jan. 29, 2004 to Dec. 29, 2005 season. The Huskies had a perfect 15-0 record at home in 2005 and were 17-2 last season.

In its final four seasons before the renovation, Washington registered four straight 12-win seasons and a 48-9 record at home.

The Arena renovation is just one of many improvements to the Washington athletic complex as part of the Campaign for the Student Athlete. The $70 million campaign's goal is to ensure national competitiveness for each of the program's 23 sports. The Campaign also helped build an indoor practice facility and the current renovation of the Connibear Shellhouse and student service center. Plans are in the works for complete stadiums for the baseball and soccer fields.

Washington ISP Sports Network

ISP Sports, America's foremost collegiate sports marketing company, begins its inaugural season as the multimedia rightsholder for UW Athletics. All Washington men's basketball games are broadcast live over the Washington ISP Sports Network. Seattle all-sports radio station KJR 950-AM in Seattle operates as the flagship station for the Network. Bob Rondeau calls the play-by-play with commentary from former Husky point guard Jason Hamilton. Rondeau and Coach Lorenzo Romar can also be heard on a live radio call-in show that airs weekly during the season.

Bob Rondeau

The official "voice" of the Huskies, Bob Rondeau is in his 18th consecutive season and 20th overall calling Washington basketball action. The award-winning broadcaster is also the play-by-play announcer for Washington football broadcasts. Rondeau hosts a weekly call-in show with the coaches. Rondeau previously worked at KOMO Radio and as a television sports anchor for Seattle's KOMO News channel 4, Seattle's ABC affiliate.
