Washington's First-Team All-Americans

Reggie Williams, 2002

Associated Press, Football Writers, ESPN.com
Earned first-team All-America honors during his sophomore season after setting several Husky receiving records. He led the Pac-10 with 1,454 receiving yards and had 94 receptions, both school records. He was the only Husky to earn first-team All-Pac-10 honors. Also set the UW career records for receptions (149) and yards (2,427) after just two seasons. He caught an 89-yard touchdown pass against San Jose State to better the Husky record for long pass play by five yards. Became just the fourth Pac-10 receiver to total 140 receptions over a two-year period.

Larry Tripplett, 2001

Football News

Tripplett led Washington to a 26-10 record in three seasons as a starter on the defensive line, starting 36 consecutive games from 1999-2001. He earned All-Pac-10 first team honors in each of his final two seasons. He was dominating in Washington's run to the 2001 Rose Bowl Championship, including an outstanding performance against Colorado that earned him National Defensive Player of the Week honors. One of 12 semifinalists for the 2001 Rotary Lombardi Award, tallied a career-best 14 tackles for loss in 2001. He was selected by the Indianapolis Colts in the second round of the 2002 NFL Draft.

Chad Ward, 2000

Associated Press, Walter Camp Football Foundation, Football News, The Sporting News
Earned first-team All-America honors after leading Washington to its first Rose Bowl title since 1992 and a postseason No. 3 ranking. One of six seniors on the offensive line in 2000, Ward earned Morris Trophy honors as the Pac-10's best offensive lineman, helping the Huskies to rush for a Pac-10 best 211.7 yards per game en route to an 11-1 record. A three-time All-Pac-10 honoree, Ward started every game in his Husky career, and was drafted in the 6th round by Jacksonville.

Olin Kreutz, 1997

Associated Press, Walter Camp Football Foundation, Football News, The Sporting News (Consensus All-American)

A fiery team leader who proved to be a dominating force on the Huskies offensive line. In addition to his All-American honors, he was voted the Pac-10's Morris Trophy winner as the league's top offensive lineman. A two-time first-team All-Pac-10 pick, Kreutz helped the Huskies to lead the league in sacks allowed in 1997. He declared for the NFL draft after his junior season and was selected by the Chicago Bears in the third round.

Benji Olson, 1996 & 1997

Associated Press (1996, '97), The Sporting News (1996), Football News (1996) and Walter Camp Football Foundation (1997)

The first two-time All-American offensive lineman in UW history. Even more impressive was the fact Olson was named a All-American as both a sophomore and junior before declaring for the NFL draft prior to his senior season. As a junior he paved the way for running back Corey Dillon, who rushed for a school record 1,555 yards and 22 touchdowns, and provided protection for the quarterbacks as the team allowed only 18 sacks, the second fewest in the Pac-10. As a junior he rallied from off-season back surgery to help the team led the Pac-10 in sacks allowed and figure third in total offense. He was a first-team All-Pac-10 selection in both 1996 and 1997 and was named the team's John P. Angel Offensive Lineman of the Year (1996). He was drafted by the Tennessee Oilers in the fifth round of the 1998 NFL draft.

Jerome Pathon, 1997

Football Coaches

Jerome Pathon had the most productive season ever by a Husky wide receiver in 1997. He set UW single-season records for receptions (69) and receiving yards (1245) to become the first Husky receiver since Mario Bailey in 1991 to earn first-team All-America honors. Pathon's yardage total was the second most-receiving yards in a Pac-10 season, trailing only USC's Johnnie Morton's 1,373 yards from the 1993 campaign. Pathon finished his career second on UW's career receiving yardage list (2,063) and was fourth in career receptions (125). Drafted by the Indianapolis Colts in the second round of the 1998 NFL draft.

Jason Chorak, 1996

The Sporting News, Football News

Jason Chorak, a defensive end with Croatian heritage, had one of the most stellar defensive seasons in Husky history in 1996. He was named the Pac-10 Conference's defensive player of the year after recording a team record and conference leading 14.5 sacks and a team record 22 tackles for loss. Chorak was a third-team All-America selection by the Associated Press. He was named a second-team All-American by the Football News in 1997. He finished his career as a two-time first-team All-Pac-10 performer. He had 59.5 tackles for loss during his career to rank No. 1 on Washington's all-time list. His 25.5 career sacks ranks as the third best mark in UW history.

Lawyer Milloy, 1995

Football Writers Association of America, Football News, Walter Camp Association, Associated Press, United Press International, Newspaper Enterprise Association, Kodak Coaches, and The Sporting News

Lawyer Milloy was a multi-talented athlete who became the first Husky defensive back to lead Washington in tackles in back-to-back seasons, recording 115 in his last year as a junior. He was named the nation's defensive back of the year by the Touchdown Club of Columbus and was one of three finalists for the Jim Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back. A two-time first-team All-Pac-10 free safety, Milloy was awarded the Chuck Niemi Big Hit Award in 1995. Milloy declared for the NFL draft after his highly decorated junior season and was selected by the New England Patriots in the second round as the 36th pick overall.

Mark Bruener, 1993*Newspaper Enterprise Association

As a junior in 1993, Mark Bruener led the Husky receivers in receptions (30), yards (414), touchdowns (three), and long catch (66). He was the first tight end to lead the Huskies in receptions since John Brady did it in 1972 with 30. Bruener recorded his only career 100-yard and multiple touchdown game in the 1993 season opener versus Stanford, gaining 101 yards and scoring two touchdowns. He was also named a first-team All-Pac-10 selection. Bruener eventually went on to become the school's career receptions leader by a tight end with 90.

The Morris Trophy (Pac-10 Lineman of the Year)

The Morris Trophy is awarded annually to the top offensive and defensive linemen in the Pac-10 Conference. What makes the award unique is its voting system. The league's offensive players vote on the top defensive lineman and the defensive players select the top offensive lineman. The annual presentation is made during the Million Dollar Banquet each February in Santa Clara, Calif..

Washington Awards

Guy Flaherty Award

The Guy Flaherty medal is awarded annually to the player voted "most inspirational" by his teammates, and is considered the top award given to a football player.

The medal was first awarded in 1908 to Guy Flaherty, whose sacrifices as a performer inspired the trophy. The senior class established the award with the help of former Dean of Faculty, Herbert Condon, to use up the $25 remaining in the class treasury. Flaherty was the unanimous choice of the squad and the Flaherty Medal was born.

Flaherty began his football career at Washington and played every minute of every game during the 1906 and 1907 seasons. A severe case of boils on his arm prevented him from playing in all but the first and last game of the 1908 season. But even while too handicapped to play football, Flaherty turned out every day with the squad, and actually performed manager and assistant manager duties while unable to play.

His willing service to Washington football was recognized by every member of the squad, thus the medal is named in his honor. The Flaherty Award is generally regarded as the first inspirational award offered in the country in intercollegiate athletics.
