Changes in the Husky Record Book

The NCAA began including postseason bowl results in individual and team recordkeeping starting in 2002. At the time, the NCAA made the decision not to go back and include previous season bowl results. In an effort to give former Husky players full credit for their accomplishments, bowl records have been included in all of Washington's single-season and career records. In the future, team totals will be changed to reflect postseason play.

The 100-Yard Rushing Breakdown

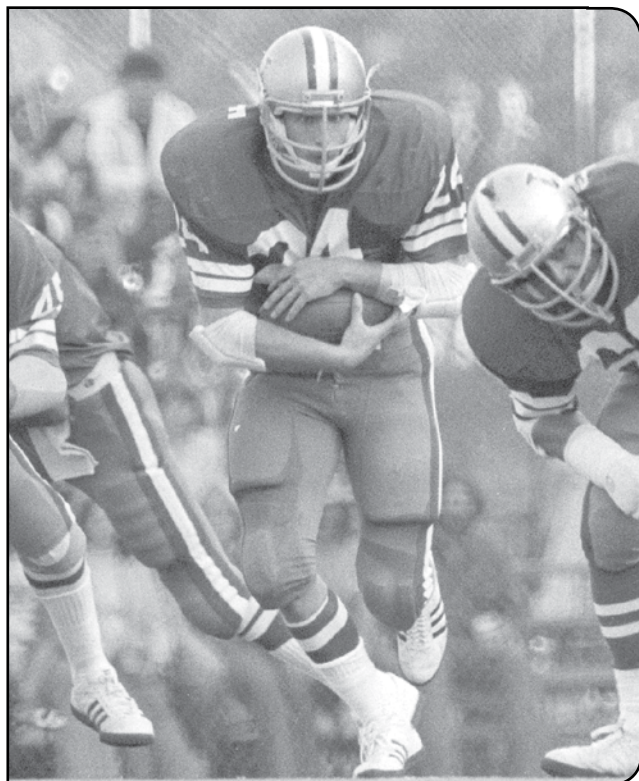

Since 1947, 58 different Huskies have rushed for 100 yards in a game 210 different times. Washington's record in those contests is 151-39-3. The Huskies are 15-1 when two UW backs reach the 100-yard mark, and 1-0 when three backs accomplish the feat. Washington is a perfect 15-0 when a UW back reaches the 200-yard milestone.
