COACH MATT THURMOND - 10TH YEAR (BYU, 1999)

Matt Thurmond is a competitor. Whether it be a ping-pong tournament, which he and his golfers compete in regularly, golfing on the beach or practicing on the links with his players, he is there to win and have fun doing it.

The Huskies have definitely had a lot of fun in recent years. The 2009-10 season saw Thurmond's squad ranked in the top-five for the entire year and win its second-consecutive Pac-10 Championship -- a first in school history. Washington also won the NCAA West Regional, a feat accomplished just previously once in school history. In taking first at the regional, Husky golfers swept the top three spots with Richard Lee capturing medalist honors.

The 2009-10 season ended earlier than Thurmond would have preferred, but when the dust settled the team had advanced to the match play portion of the NCAA Championships reserved for the top eight teams for a second-consecutive year. Individually, there were plenty of accomplishments by Huskies, including Nick Taylor winning the Ben Hogan Award and Chris Williams earning top freshman honors in the nation with the Phil Mickelson Award. Taylor was also Pac-10 Player of the Year to become the first player in UW history to win twice in their career.

The 2010 season came on the heels of a 2008-09 season in which the team won a program record-tying five team titles and record-setting six individual titles, including a Pac-10 Championship in each. It was at the UW-hosted Pac-10 Championship at Seattle Golf Club that the Huskies showcased their ability, defeating the nation's top golf conference by 18 strokes on their way to Washington's fifth conference title.

The Huskies were justly rewarded for their dominance, as Thurmond was named Pac-10 Coach of the Year for the second time and Taylor was conference player of the year, while Richard Lee and Pac-10 Champ Darren Wallace were first-team members.

Washington tied for third-place (equaling a program-best) in the three-round stroke play at the 2009 NCAA Championships. Officially, the Huskies tied for fifth-place overall, along with Arizona State, USC and Oklahoma State after losing in the quarterfinals of match play at the NAAs.

Thurmond helped three Huskies to All-American status in 2009 -- led by first-team member Nick Taylor. Ricard Lee and Darren Wallace also obtained All-American honors under Thurmond's tutelage during the season.

While the team's results on the course proves the level of excellence Washington has reached, it is Thurmond's fun and hands-on approach to coaching that has guided the Huskies to become one of the premier golf programs in the country in his decade as head coach. Under his instruction, the University of Washington men's program has finished inside the top 10 at the NCAA Championship five out of the past six years. But those accomplishments are not what Thurmond focuses on a day-to-day basis. Instead, he makes sure that his players are comfortable playing and studying at the University of Washington. His player-friendly coaching style is one that quickly acclimates his players to Division I golf and the pressures of Pac-10 play.

"I knew one thing for sure, wherever we went, everybody knew that we had more fun," said 2006 graduate and former player James Lepp. "Everybody was jealous of us."

Lepp won the 2005 NCAA Individual Championship, was one of Thurmond's highest achieving golfers. Thurmond has overseen the most successful stretch run in Washington's history, reaching the NCAA Championship in eight of nine years as coach, and finishing in the top 11 each of those eight years. Golf, as in any sport,

THURMOND CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- UW has advanced to the NCAA Championship all but two years under Thurmond.
- Players have earned All-America honors 10 times under his tutelage.
- 2009 Palmer Cup coach.
- Pac-10 Coach of the Year in 2005 and 2009.
- Coached Ben Hogan Award winner (Nick Taylor, 2010) and Phil Mickelson Award winner (Chris Williams, 2010).
- Three Pac-10 Championships, 2010 NCAA Regional title.

is always more fun when winning, but Thurmond has a unique combination of success and youth that resonates with players.

"Matt is an incredibly intelligent and innovating coach," Lepp said. "But he's just like one of the players too."

Thurmond has shown his innovation in recruiting during his time at Washington. He is willing to go wherever he finds a solid player, as demonstrated by his signing of Singapore golfer Tze Huang Choo. And the time he spent on recruits in British Columbia has paid off. Nick Taylor, Kevin Spooner, Darren Wallace and Charlies Hughes are all from Canada.

Thurmond was a four-year letterman on the BYU golf team from 1993-99 and was named Western Athletic Conference Freshman of the Year in 1994. Following that, he served as a missionary for his church in Venezuela and then returned home to earn recognition as a WAC Scholar-Athlete and Academic All-American in 1998.

Thurmond, a Burlington, Wash. native, graduated from BYU in 1999 with a degree in English. He is married to two-time WAC champion triple-jumper Kathy Sorenson, who also competed for the Cougars. They have three daughters, Elizabeth, Emily and Hinckley. He was named Washington's head coach in June of 2001 at the age of 26. Thurmond had worked at UW as an assistant coach for one season.

In addition to team accomplishments, Thurmond has mentored many of the top players to ever don purple and gold on the links. The 2005 & 2009 Pac-10 Coach of the Year, he has coached one NCAA champion, two Pac-10 champions, 14 All-Americans and 17 All-Pac-10 honorees.
