NCAA Championships Notes

UW Has Record-Setting Year

The Washington golfers set two impressive records during the 2001-2002 season. The Huskies took 16 strokes off of their all-time 54-hole tournament scoring mark when they shot 874 to finish fourth at the Stanford Intercollegiate Oct. 19-21. The Huskies turned in rounds of 293, 290 and 291 and were led overall by senior Kelli Kamimura's sixth-place finish. During San Jose State's Spartan Invitational (March 4-6), Washington set its low 18-hole record with a second-round score of 285. That broke the previous best single-round total of 288 set at the 2001 Pac-10 Championships. Junior Louise Friberg led UW during the second-round of the Spartan Invitational with a 3-under score of 69. Freshman Paige Mackenzie shot 2-under 70 and Kamimura was 1-under 71. Lindsay Morgan rounded out the scoring with a 75.

Kamimura Builds on Record

Washington senior Kelli Kamimura moved into first place on UW's career Top-10 Finishes list this season and has built her all-time total to 20. Kamimura had four top-10 outings this year, topped by her fourth-place finish at the Lady Aztec Invitational. Kamimura was Washington's top golfer during the first six tournaments of the year.

UW's Winning Ways

Washington won two tournaments during the spring. The Huskies finished first in the 15-team field at the Duck Invitational (March 28-29) with a score of 882. Washington ended the regular season by winning the Peg Barnard California Collegiate with a 36-hole score of 593. During UW's eight regular-season tournaments that were completed, the Huskies finished in the top four six times.

Morgan Heats Up

Husky sophomore Lindsay Morgan has been Washington's hot golfer during the final month of the season. She was the Huskies' top finisher in three of the last five tournaments. She recorded the team's best finish this season, placing second at Oregon's Duck Invitational, with a 3-over score of 219. She was third at the Peg Barnard California Collegiate with a 2-over 146. Morgan was Washington's top finisher at the Pac-10 Championships, placing sixth overall at 222. Her finish at the Pac-10s was the fourth best by a Husky at the event. Morgan equaled her career best 18-hole score when she carded a 70 during the final round of the NCAA West Regional. She finished 12th overall at 222.

Four in the Hunt

How good have the 16th-ranked Huskies been this season? Currently, four Huskies stroke averages for this year rank among the top 11 on UW's single-season list. Kelli Kamimura, who owns the UW record with a 74.3 average she set last year, is eighth at 75.8. Louise Friberg is third at 74.9, Lindsay Morgan is sixth at 75.5 and freshman Paige Mackenzie is 11th at 76.0.

Playing at Washington National

While Washington National Golf Club became the home course for Husky golf when it opened in the fall of 2000, the Huskies have hosted just one tournament at the facility, the 2001 Fall Preview. The Huskies annual fall tournament, the Edean Ihlanfeldt Invitational, is held at Sahalee Golf and Country Club in Redmond. In May, the Huskies opened their private hitting area on the west end of the practice range at Washington National.

The Coach

Mary Lou Mulflur Head Women's Coach 19th Season

In the history of the Husky women's golf team, two individuals stand out as the cornerstones for the program. The first is Edean Ihlanfeldt, the namesake of the Huskies annual fall tournament. She was Washington's first coach. So dedicated to seeing women have an opportunity to compete on the intercollegiate level, Ihlanfeldt never accepted a paycheck for her efforts. She funneled her salary back into the program. The second is current head coach Mary Lou Mulflur, who is in her 19th year of directing the program.

A player for Ihlanfeldt, Mulflur's passion and commitment to Husky golf makes her former mentor proud. Mulflur's dedication, teaching skills and fundraising abilities have allowed her to build the Husky program into one of the nation's most competitive teams on an annual basis.

Mulflur's efforts have not gone unnoticed. Following the 1999 season she was named Pacific-10 Conference Coach of the Year. It was the second time Mulflur earned the honor, with the first coming in 1988.

Last season Mulflur led Washington to a 16th-place finish at the NCAA Championships, the best showing by a Husky team at the national championships. The 2002 season marks the 10th consecutive season Washington has advanced to NCAA Regional competition, every season since the inception of the regionals in 1993. UW's NCAA Championship appearance is the fifth by the Huskies in the past eight seasons.

During the 2002 season the Huskies won Oregon Duck Invitational and the Peg Barnard California Collegiate and tied for fifth at the Pac-10 Championships. The team set a 54-hole scoring record at the Stanford Invitational, shooting 874 to shatter the old mark by 16 strokes. At the Spartan Invitational, the team recorded the lowest 18-hole total (285) in school history.

In 2001, Mulflur saw Kelli Kamimura earn second-team All-America honors. She was the fourth Husky golfer to earn All-America recognition under Mulflur's tutelage. She has also seen 11 Huskies named to the All-Scholar Athlete team on 17 occasions, including Michelle Grafos in 2001.

Mulflur was instrumental in helping Washington earn the right to host the 2002 NCAA Championships at Washington National Golf Club.

In 1995, Mulflur directed the Huskies to their first team NCAA Tournament appearance on the strength of a best-ever sixth-place finish in the NCAA West Regional. In 1988, the UW had its best Pac-10 finish ever, placing third in the conference tour-namment. That year brought Mulflur her first Pac-10 Coach of the Year award.

Mulflur has coached several Husky players who have gone on to play professionally. Nancy Kessler McDaniel, who played at UW from 1984 to 1987, went on to play on the LPGA tour and is now the head coach at California. Last year, two of Mulflur's most recent pupils were playing in the pros. Dodie Mazzuca and Jennifer Stapleton both competed on the LPGA's Developmental circuit, the FUTURES Tour. Mazzuca finished in the top 3 on the money list, giving her an exemption for the 2001 LPGA Tour.

Mulflur, regarded as one of the most successful golfers to come out of the UW, came to Washington in 1976 and was one of the first female athletes to receive a scholarship at Washington. The Portland, Ore., native went on to earn four letters as a Husky.

Before her career was over, Mulflur won three regular-season tournaments, including the inaugural Ihlanfeldt Invitational in 1980 — a feat only surpassed by Kamimura. Mazzuca won three tournament titles in her career, including two in one season. Kessler, Kamimura are the only other Huskies besides Mulflur to capture multiple titles in a single season.

While attending Grant High School, Mulflur won state high school titles in 1974 and 1975. She also won the 1975 Oregon junior championship.

Mulflur added the Southern Oregon titles in 1980, 1982, 1995 and 1997 to her list of accolades. The pinnacle of her playing career came in 1979 and 1980 when she competed at the U.S. Open Championships. In addition she competed in four National Collegiate Championships, and three U.S. Amateur Championships. Recently, Mulflur set course records at Tacoma Country and Golf Club (66) and Trophy Lake Golf and Casting Club (68).

Mulflur graduated from Washington in 1980 with a degree in speech communications. She is former vice-president of the National Golf Coaches Association and served on the LPGA SAFECO Classic Advisory Board. She has appeared as a celebrity player in several local golf events and fundraisers.
