Becky Simpson

TIA BOLLINGER
2001 - Third Team
2003- Second Team

Tia Bollinger became just the third true freshman in Husky history to earn All-America honors, putting together a phenomenal 2001 campaign in the circle.

The Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year finished with a 36-8 overall record, tallying UW season records for wins, innings pitched (287.0) and games started (39).

In 2003, Bollinger led UW to its sixth WCWS appearance and boasted a 28-9 mark and 1.32 ERA. She set the UW record with her 12th career save.

SHELLEY BROWN
1997 - Second Team

Shelley Brown rounded out her UW career with an All-American season in 1997, batting .338 and leading the team in both runs scored (54) and stolen bases (47).

A four-year letterwinner in the outfield, Brown earned Pac-10 honors in each of her four seasons and was a first-team all-region selection in both 1995 and 1997.

Brown, a Washington native, was the first Husky player to steal at least 100 bases in her career.

MICHELLE CHURCH
1996 - First Team
1996 - Academic Second Team

Michelle Church held down the corner spot at first base for the Huskies in each of the program's first 264 games.

In 1996, Church helped lead the Huskies to a spot in the NCAA title game, hitting a career best .369, while earning Pac-10 first team honors for the third time.

An English major, Church also was the first Academic All-American in UW softball history.

JAIME CLARK
2000 - Second Team
2001 - Third Team
2002 - First Team

Jaime Clark has earned All-America honors three times, establishing herself as one of the best hitters in Husky history.

As a freshman in 2000, Clark led the nation in total bases with 176, while ranking second in both home runs (23) and doubles (24).

A year later, the two-time first team All-Pac-10 selection hit .379 with a team-best 52 RBI.

Last season, Clark led the nation with 75 RBIs and ranked fifth with an .826 slugging percentage.

JENNIFER CLINE
1996 - Second Team

One of the cornerstones of the UW softball program, catcher Jennifer Cline earned a spot on the All-America second team as a senior in 1996.

The four-time team captain hit a career-best .394 with 71 RBI in leading the Huskies to the 1996 NCAA title game.

A three-time all-conference pick, Cline owns three UW career records for RBI (227), walks (175) and home runs (43).

EVE GAW
1998 - Third Team

A dominating pitcher throughout her four-year career, Eve Gaw changed her focus as a senior from defense to offense.

In 1998, Gaw earned All-America honors as a utility player, leading the Huskies in batting average (.345), RBI (37) and home runs (8), while playing first base.

The four-time all-Pac-10 selection finished her career with a 69-17 record in the circle, including a 7-1 mark in 1998.

JAMIE GRAVES
1998, 1999 - Second Team
2000 - First Team

A left-handed finesse pitcher, Jamie Graves is just the second UW player to earn All-America honors three times.

She finished her career in 2000 with six UW season and career records, earning Pac-10 first team honors three times.

Graves, along with classmate Jennifer Spediacci, helped the UW to the nation's second-best team ERA in both 1999 and 2000.

KELLY HAUXHURST
2001 - Third Team

A clutch team player, Kelly Hauxhurst made her senior year her best, leading the UW in batting (.386) and hits (73), while reaching base in 57 of the team's 63 games.

The team's only first team all-region selection in 2001, Hauxhurst started 268 career games in the outfield and garnered NCAA regional all-tournament accolades three straight seasons from 1998-2000.

ROSIE LEUTZINGER
1998 - Third Team

The Huskies all-time leading base stealer, Rosie Leutzing earned third team All-America honors as a sophomore in 1998.

Leutzing, a three-time Pac-10 selection, led the Huskies in five offensive categories in 1998, including at bats (212), hits (68) and stolen bases (35).

Splitting time between shortstop and the outfield, Leutzing hit a career-best .351 and led the nation in doubles (25) in 2000.

ANGIE MARZETTA
1994 - Third Team

Washington softball's first All-American and first inductee into the Husky Hall of Fame, Angie Marzetta made the most of her short two-year stay at the UW.

In 1994, Marzetta, an outfielder, hit .364 with 36 stolen bases, as the UW advanced to the NCAA tournament in only its second year of existence.

Marzetta's .472 batting average, 94 hits and 59 stolen bases in 1993 are all Husky season records.

HEATHER MEYER
1996 - First Team

A junior college transfer, Heather Meyer helped pitch the Huskies into the 1996 NCAA title game, just a year after injury limited her to 19 games in her first season at the UW.

In 1996, Meyer led the Pac-10 in ERA with a 1.23 mark, allowing only 33 runs in 188.2 innings, while striking out 148.

For her efforts, Meyer earned first team all-Pac-10 and all-Pacific Region honors.

Becky Newbry
1996 - Third Team
1997 - Second Team
1999 - First Team

The program's first three-time All-American, Becky Newbry was a utility player of the truest sense, starting in every position on the field except pitcher, during her four-year career from 1995-1999.

As a senior, Newbry saved her best season for last, earning first team All-America honors, while hitting .436 with 92 hits, 55 RBI and 25 stolen bases.

Sara Pickering
1996, 1997 - First Team

The NCAA career leader in doubles, Sara Pickering is the Huskies only two-time first team All-American.

The 5-5 second baseman started a UW record 271 games from 1994-1997, collecting 319 hits and batting over the .400 mark twice.

Known for her work ethic and competitiveness, Pickering earned first team all-Pac-10 honors in each of her final three seasons.

KRISTEN RIVERA
2002 - Second Team
2003- First Team

Rivera became just the fourth true freshman in Husky history to be named an All-American.

She posted a .346 average with 63 hits, 13 doubles, 16 home runs and 61 RBIs. Her 16 home runs rank her fourth on the school's all-time charts.

In 2003, Rivera tied for the national lead with 25 home runs, while hitting .395. Her 25 home runs set a UW single-season record.

JENNIFER SPEDIACCI
1998 - Second Team
2000 - First Team

2000 - Academic Second Team
Excelling on the field and in the classroom, Jennifer Spediacci became the first UW pitcher to record 100 career wins, earning athletic All-America honors twice.

The Pac-10 Pitcher of the Year and Honda Award nominee in 2000, Spediacci combined with classmate Jamie Graves to lead the UW to four straight College World Series appearances.

JENNY TOPPING
2000 - First Team

In her first full collegiate season, Jenny Topping hit her way into the NCAA record books in 2000, leading the nation in home runs (24), RBI (90) and slugging percentage (.960).

The left-hand hitting Topping earned Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year honors and slugged a school record four grand slams.

Topping also set UW records for walks (56) and on-base percentage (.565) in 67 games.

All-Time Coaching Roster

Teresa Wilson, 1993-2003 532-198-1 (.728)

Entering the 2003-04 season, the Pacific-10 Conference continues to uphold its tradition as the "Conference of Champions."® Pac-10 members have claimed an incredible 73 NCAA team titles over the past nine seasons, for an average of more than eight championships per academic year.

Even more impressive is the breadth of the Pac-10's success, as those 73 team titles over the past nine seasons have come in 21 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-10 has now led the nation in NCAA Championships 38 of the last 43 years and finished second five times.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletics achievement, the Pac-10 has captured 325 NCAA titles (243 men's, 82 women's), far outdistancing the runner-up Big Ten Conference's 193 titles.

The Conference's reputation is further proven in the annual NACDA Directors' Cup competition, the prestigious award that honors the best overall collegiate athletics programs in the country. Stanford continued its remarkable run in the 2002-03 season, winning its ninth consecutive NACDA Directors' Cup. In the 2002-03 competition, four of the top 10, and seven of the top 20 Division I programs, were Pac-10 members: No. 1 Stanford, No. 6 UCLA, No. 9 California, No. 10 Arizona State, No. 13 USC, No. 16 Arizona and No. 17 Washington.

The Pac-10 captured eight NCAA titles in 2002-03, most of any conference. The Pac-10 total of eight edged out the Southeastern Conference, which was runnerup with seven NCAA crowns. No other conference earned more than three NCAA championships. The Pac-10 had the most NCAA titles of any conference in women's sports with five, and tied with the SEC for most in men's sports with three. NCAA team champions from the Pac-10 in 2002-03 came from: Stanford (men's water polo, men's cross country), UCLA (men's soccer, gymnastics, women's water polo, softball), and USC (volleyball, women's golf). The Pac-10 also had runners-up in eight NCAA Championship events: California (men's water polo, softball), Stanford (baseball, men's soccer, women's cross country, women's volleyball, women's water polo, women's tennis). Overall, the Conference had 23 teams finish in the top three at NCAA Championship events.

Participation in the postseason was a common occurrence for the Pac-10 in 2002-03. Of the 22 sports sponsored by the Pac-10, 19 witnessed at least half its teams participating in the postseason. The men sent 64 of a possible 87 teams into the postseason (73.6 percent), while the women sent 78 of a possible 99 teams into NCAA Tournament action (78.8 percent).

The Pac-10 experienced continued success in football as the league sent seven teams to bowl games. USC won the Nokia Sugar Bowl, and Trojan quarterback Carson Palmer became the eighth player from the Pac-10 to win the Heisman Trophy. Washington State represented the Conference in the Rose Bowl, while Arizona State, UCLA, Oregon, Oregon State, and Washington also earned bowl bids. Overall, the Conference posted a stellar 32-15 (.681) record versus non-conference foes in 2002.

The Pac-10 also showed its worth on the basketball court, as it sent five teams into the Men's NCAA Tournament where Arizona advanced to the Elite Eight. It was the second consecutive year in which a Pac-10 team appeared in the round of eight.

The Pac-10 Men's Basketball Tournament returned to Los Angeles, with Oregon making a run through the tourney to earn the NCAA automatic bid. On the women's side, Pac-10 champion Stanford won the second Conference Tournament in San Jose, defeating Arizona in the hard fought final.

The Conference continued its dominance in softball as all eight teams made it to the NCAA Regional Tournament for the third time, marking the fifth consecutive season the Pac-10 has sent at least seven teams to regionals. Arizona, California, UCLA and Washington made it to the Women's College World Series where the defending NCAA champion Golden Bears and Bruins battled for the national title, the 10th time Conference teams have faced each other in the championship game, and the 20th time in 22 years the Pac-10 has sent at least one team to the title game. The Bruins persevered to win their ninth NCAA softball crown.

During the season, the Conference also added to its golf history as USC garnered the women's title. Women's volleyball was another showcase of Pac-10 talent, as a record eight teams were selected for the NCAA Tournament. USC and Stanford marched to the Final Four, marking the ninth time the Conference has placed two or more teams in the national semifinals. For the fifth time since 1992, the NCAA Volleyball Final involved two Pac-10 teams, with USC outlasting Stanford for its second NCAA title. In all, five NCAA Championship games/matches in 2002-03 involved two Pac-10 squads: men's soccer, volleyball, men's & women's water polo and softball.

On the men's side, Pac-10 members have won 243 NCAA Team Championships, far ahead of the 184 claimed by the runner-up Big Ten. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-10 - 15 basketball titles by five schools (more than any other conference), 48 tennis titles, 45 outdoor track and field crowns, and 24 baseball titles. Pac-10 members have won 23 of the last 34 NCAA titles in volleyball, 29 of the last 44 in water polo, and 20 total swimming and diving national championships.

The roots of the Pacific-10 Conference go back nearly 87 years to December 15, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Ore. Original membership consisted of four schools - the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916. One year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University), was accepted into the Conference, and Stanford University joined in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California and the University of Idaho. Montana joined the Conference in 1924, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-team league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45, when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and joined the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a nine-team Conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and a new Conference was formed - the Athletic Association of Western Universities. Original AAWU membership consisted of California, Stanford, Southern California, UCLA, and Washington. Washington State became a member in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. In 1968, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports.

Currently, the Pac-10 sponsors 11 men's sports and 11 women's sports. Additionally, the Conference is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and two other women's sports.

Edwin N. Atherton was named the Conference's first Commissioner in 1940. He has been succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt (1944), Thomas J. Hamilton (1959), Wiles Hallock (1971), and current Commissioner Thomas C. Hansen in 1983.

The Pacific-10 Conference offices are located 25 miles east of San Francisco in Walnut Creek, Calif.

PREVIEW
GENERAL

Washington has played itself into the upper echelon of collegiate softball, and it has the home facility to showcase that talent.

Easily one of the finest facilities in the country, Husky Softball Stadium is home to the 1996 and 2000 Pac-10 Champions, and was the site of the 1996, 1998, 1999 and 2000 NCAA regional tournaments that Washington won to advance to the College World Series.

Part one of the two-phase, $4 million project was completed in the summer of 1993, making 1994 the first year of play on the new home field. The first official game at the stadium was April 8, 1994, against Willamette, in which UW pitcher Nancy Wagner threw a no-hitter. Washington competed in nearby Bellevue in its inaugural season, 1993.

Phase two, which began in November 1995, was completed last in the 1996 season, and 1997 was the first full season of play in the finished facility.

Husky Softball Stadium is located just east of Husky Stadium and shares in one of the most spectacular views in the country, looking out over Lake Washington and toward majestic Mt. Rainier. The facility was designed with concrete and masonry materials to incorporate the architectural features of nearby Husky Stadium, Nordstrom

The Husky Softball Stadium offers a breathtaking views of Lake Washington and has been the host site to four NCAA Regional Tournaments.

Tennis Center and Dempsey Indoor Facility. The firm of Loschky, Marquardt and Nesholm designed the facility, which won the NFCA Regional Field of the Year award in 1998 and 2001.

The stadium is equipped to seat 1,000 fans in the main stands, 200 theatre-style seats and 800 bench seats. Expanded seating for 1,500 is possible by adding bleachers around the perimeter of the field.

Spectators enter through the rear of the stadium to maximize seating close to the field and ensure fans the closest possible view of the action.

The stadium includes a full-service locker room, coaches' offices, boardroom, training room, two concession stands and permanent restrooms. Generous handicapped seating and an elevator are also available.

Two batting cages are located down the left field line, as are ample storage areas for maintenance equipment.

A covered press box is fully equipped to host all print, radio and television media personnel covering Husky Softball. In addition, a unique enclosed viewing area provides camera angles from behind home plate.

The Huskies have pulled in nearly 100,000 fans through its gates since its inaugural season in 1993. Last year, Washington averaged 727 fans per game for the fourth-best attendance average in the country.
