Changes in the Husky Record Book

In 2001 rally scoring was instituted for all five games and the first four games were extended to 30 points. These changes shortened the average length of matches and lowered average statistics. In 2008, the first four games were shortened back to 25 points instead of 30, which will alter the record book again. Point scoring began in the 2001 season and is calculated by adding kills, service aces and blocks (k + sa + b = points).

2004 Pac-10 Champions

Washington won its first-ever Pacific-10 Conference title in 2004, clinching the title outright in the last league match of the season on Nov. 27 with a 3-1 victory over UCLA (29-31, 30-23, 30-23, 30-24). The Huskies finished the Pac-10 season with a 16-2 mark— one match ahead of second-place finisher Stanford. Christal Morrison was named Pac-10 Freshman of the Year, while Jim McLaughlin was selected as the Pac-10 Coach of the Year. Five Washington players earned All-Pac-10 honors, including first team picks Brie Hagerty, Candace Lee, Christal Morrison and Courtney Thompson, and honorable mention honoree Darla Myhre. Thompson led the conference with 14.67 assists per game, while Lee led the Pac-10 with 5.95 digs per game.

The 2004 team won the school's first Pac-10 title and advanced to its first NCAA semifinal match.

2005 Pac-10 Champions

Washington clinched at least a share of the Pac-10 title on Nov. 11 with a win over USC, and won the crown outright Nov. 17 with a sweep of Oregon State (30-17, 30-11, 30-23) with two weeks left in the regular season. The Huskies finished the Pac-10 season with a 17-1 mark— three matches ahead of second-place finishers Arizona and Stanford. Sanja Tomasevic tallied 13 kills in the win, taking over the No. 1 spot on the school's all-time career kills list, and was named the Pac-10 Player of the Year. Jim McLaughlin was selected as the Pac-10 Coach of the Year for the third time in the previous four seasons. Six Huskies earned all-conference honors, including first team honorees Alesha Deesing, Christal Morrison, Courtney Thompson and Tomasevic, while Brie Hagerty was named to the honorable mention team. Darla Myhre and Deesing led the Pac-10 with .417 and .402 hitting percentages, respectively, while Thompson led the league with 14.89 assists per game.

The 2005 team won the Pac-10 crown with two weeks remaining in the season en route to the NCAA Championship.

Bank of America Arena • HISTORY

Bank of America Arena at Hec Edmundson Pavilion is the primary home for the Husky volleyball team. The facility underwent a $40 million, 19-month renovation between March of 1999 and November of 2000 to reconfigure its interior and since then has become one of the most exciting venues for collegiate volleyball in the nation, boasting a top-6 national attendance average in each of the last three seasons.

Washington boasts an impressive 55-18 (.753) record at Bank of America Arena since head coach Jim McLaughlin took over the program in 2001, including a 38-1 (.974) mark over the last three seasons. The Huskies enter the 2007 season with a program record 31-match win streak at Bank of America Arena.

Bank of America Arena has been the host site of numerous NCAA Tournaments, including the 2004 and 2006 NCAA Regionals. Last season, Washington cruised through the regional to advance to its third consecutive NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship where it tied for third in the nation. The Huskies defeated Penn State in the NCAA Regional Championship in front of a school-record crowd of 6,846.

Originally completed in 1927, the arena renovation project increased capacity from 7,900 to 10,000 and did so in a way that only increased the arena's intimacy. Gone are the infamous roof support pillars that obstructed views of the court. They were replaced by a pair of "super-trusses" that run the length of the building from east to west. Each super truss is 245-feet long, 30-inches in diameter and weighs 460,000 pounds. The Pavilion's east end was converted into a practice court for the volleyball and basketball teams.

Adorning the west end of the Arena is the Founders' Club and a new Hall of Fame room that proudly displays Washington's outstanding athletic tradition. The expanded area offers much more public access to displays, trophies and historical information in addition to serving as a pregame and postgame reception area.

While the renovation of the main arena is stunning, the improvements to the support areas will greatly benefit Washington's overall program. They have dramatically increased the space of the sports medicine center facilities, equipment rooms, meeting rooms, media accommodations and locker rooms for many of the UW's teams, including a major overhaul of the volleyball locker room in the summer of 2007 at the cost of approximately $300,000.

Washington boasts an impressive 70-20 (.778) record at Bank of America Arena since head coach Jim McLaughlin took over the program in 2001, including a 50-3 (.974) mark over the last four seasons. The Huskies set a program record of 39 straight home wins, a streak which ended in 2007.

HISTORY • Bank of America Arena

With the renovation, the volleyball team received a new locker room, complete with cherry wood lockers with UW logos and lettering, Husky volleyball carpet and chairs, a new bathroom vanity and shower area and entryway hardwood floors and graphics.

The team also received a new team room that includes a HDTV wall-mounted wide screen television, complete audio-visual equipment upgrade with DVD player, projector, cd player, amplifier, iPod player and computer video input, audio speaker system, automatic projection screen, computer station with internet access, custom leather furniture, including couches and bar-type seating, kitchen complete with refrigerator, microwave and cabinets, as well as a fingerprint entry security system.

The Huskies will also enjoy the benefits of a film room that includes 22 leather theater seats, projection screen with video capabilities and drop down Washington banner. The room can be used not only for analyzing film but for press conferences and postgame interviews.

Playing In Bank of America Arena:

"Playing in Bank of America Arena is amazing. The fans are wonderful and the atmosphere is one of a kind. There is no other gym I'd rather call home."
- Junior libero Tamari Miyashiro

Washington hosted one of four NCAA Regional Tournaments in 2006, defeating Penn State in the championship to advance to its third-consecutive NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship.

Home Court Advantage

The Huskies are 24-11 all-time in the NCAA Tournament, including a 13-2 mark when playing at home.

In 2006, Washington set the school record when 6,846 fans packed Bank of America Arena for the NCAA Regional Championship to watch the Huskies defeat Penn State 3-1 in what proved to be one of the most exciting atmospheres in recent collegiate volleyball history.

Washington's inaugural volleyball season was in 1974. That year, the Huskies went 26-25.

Changes in the Husky Record Book

In 2001 rally scoring was instituted for all five games and the first four games were extended to 30 points. In 2008, the first four games were shortened back to 25 points. These changes shortened the average length of matches and lowered average statistics.
